Risk Profile & Considerations

- Suitable for investors with a 5+ year horizon.
- Equity exposure means the fund can fall in downturns; the multi-asset structure softens, not eliminates, drawdowns.
- Interest-rate moves affect the fixed-income sleeve; gold can be volatile but diversifies equity risk.
- Not suitable for investors needing capital protection or short-term liquidity certainty.

Fund Manager

Ananya Krishnan, CFA — 18 years of investment experience across multi-asset and equity strategies. Has managed the fund since its 2016 inception, supported by four sector analysts and a fixed-income strategist.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is this fund suitable for a pension or retirement allocation?

It is designed for long-horizon investors, including institutional and retirement portfolios, via the Institutional share class. As with any equity-oriented fund, suitability depends on the client's risk tolerance and horizon and should be confirmed against their investment policy.

What is the benchmark and why?

The CRISIL Hybrid 35+65 Aggressive Index — roughly a 65% equity / 35% debt blend, closely matching the fund's target mix, making it a fair performance yardstick.

How liquid is the fund and how do redemptions work?

Open-ended: units redeem on any business day at the applicable NAV. A 1% exit load applies within 12 months of purchase; none thereafter.

Does the fund use leverage or risky credit?

No. It uses no leverage and avoids unrated credit, holding only government securities and high-grade corporate bonds.

Why does the fund hold gold?

The ~5% gold sleeve acts as an inflation hedge and tends to diversify equity risk during market drawdowns.

What is the minimum investment?

Rs 5,000 for the retail plan and Rs 1 crore for the Institutional share class.
